THOU AS MY KNIGHT

"You've lost, and there's nothing you can do to change that. You sealed your fate the moment you revealed yourself."

"Ha-ha-ha! I'll admit you're an amazing Informationist! But I'm even more incredible. So just keep on kneeling and succumb to despair as you learn why I'm the strongest of the Six Imperial Swords!"

"On my master's orders,
I will take you all with me.
Resist, and I'll kill you."

Finé Primus was the most famous of the Six Imperial Swords. Known as "the Radiant Informationist," she was a heroic level-eleven Informationist who had created mountains of corpses on countless battlefields. That monster of a woman was now right in front of them. The enemy had seized the initiative, and Tsushima's client was well within killing range. Even he had no means of countering in this situation.

"Finé Primus?"

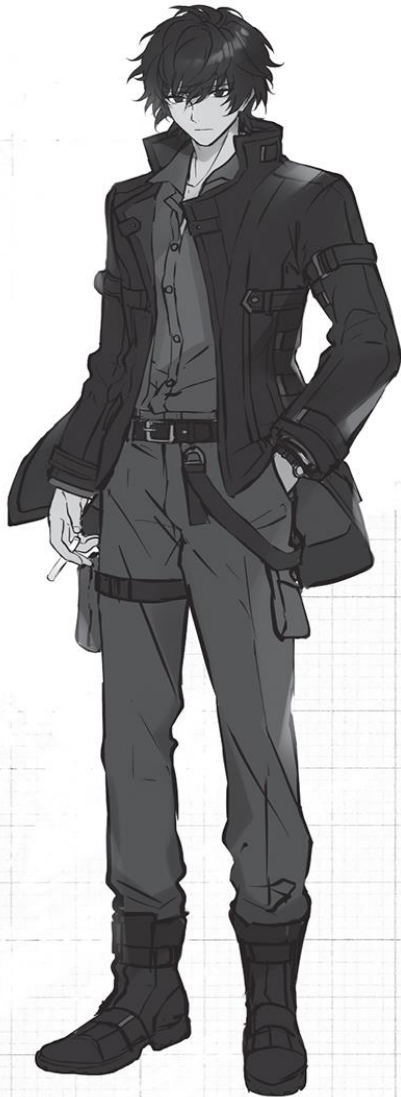

"What are you doing up here?"
